

Check Our References..

NAFEP's professional CEA® member network, its Advisory Board and its Board of Directors put their reputations and licenses on the line for the organization routinely. Anyone of them will provide references for the organization on request.

In addition, the Web sites of 200+ outstanding institutions and organizations recommend, endorse or list NAFEP as an estate planning resource, making www.nafep.com the most recommended, full service estate planning organization on the Internet. The referring sites include major law schools, financial services organizations, major media outlets and other well known organizations. For a partial list, see the illustration below. To actually review the web pages of these organizations where the NAFEP listing appears, go to www.nafep.com and select "Check Our References".
