

Bulletin ONLINE

FIND ARTICLES FROM CURRENT/PAST ISSUES ▶
JOIN DISCUSSIONS ▶
READER SERVICES ▶

The newspaper of 50+ America

HOME

TODAY'S NEWS

SOCIAL SECURITY

MEDICARE

PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

CONSUMER ALERT

LONG-TERM CARE

YOUR HEALTH

YOUR MONEY

YOUR LIFE

ADVERTISEMENT

Health and Wellness

Feel your best. >>

YOUR MONEY

Sites to See: Estate Planning

➤ Email This Page To A Friend

Here are some online resources that may help with your estate planning research:

The National Association of Financial & Estate Planning

This privately held, for-profit organization based in Salt Lake City, Utah, has a membership base that includes attorneys, CPAs and financial planners nationwide. NAFEP's web site features a lengthy section about Estate Planning with information and advice about general estate planning concerns, such as "Problems Due to Incapacitation" and "Death Taxes on Your Estate." The site also has a "Consumer Request for Contact" tool to help users connect with NAFEP's member professionals.

● Visit Site

more on this story

How to Discuss Inheritances and Wills With Your Parents

Poll for Boomers: How Much of an Inheritance Do You Expect to Receive?

Poll For Readers 75+: How Much of an Inheritance Do You Plan to Leave?

Savers vs. Spenders—the Difference is Generational

Will Power

Take the Quiz: Estate Planning

Managing Money, From Afar \(June 2003\)